whites

2013 pascal jolivet sauvignon blanc sancerre, france 86

sancerre and pouilly fume are two key sauvignon blanc regions found in the loire valley. sancerre typically is a lot leaner, tighter, less herbaceous style than its new zealand or australian counterparts. the mineral traits found in the Sancerre wines (chalky, lime stone, oyster shell characters) lend themselves to fresh seafood.

2012 martin arndorfer 'vorgeschmack' grüner veltliner / riesling kamptal, austria 60 martin and wife anna are the team behind this exciting winery. located in the kamptal region in austria, they are producing wines that are pure and delicious, fresh and crisp. a blend of austria's most planted white grape, gruner veltliner, and the more commonly seen, riesling, this wine offers great value and will quench any hard earned thirst

2013 bass phillip rose gippsland, vic 55

not your typical pinot noir rose, in fact more of a chilled red. still an amazing wine from a fantastic producer but just a bit different to previous vintages. light pinot noir in colour and still with the trademark cloudiness from the no fining or filtering policy at bass phillip. a savoury cherry palate and no notable tannin allows this chilled red to work. great summer day option.

2011 fruits of the vine 'le grenache' grenache/mourvedre barossa valley, sa 58

grenache/shiraz/mourvedre is a blend originating from the rhone valley in france but has found its home in south australia. this red wine is missing the shiraz component but still has bucket loads of character. throughout the barossa you'll find old bush vine grenache and mourvedre, and of course shiraz is everywhere! this blend creates a slightly softer, fragrant and easier drinking wine.

2012 jean foillard 'cote du py' gamay beaujolais, france 90 beaujolais wines can be a straight forward and no nonsense in style but many producers are giving them the love and attention they deserve. jean foillard is one of these producers, creating elegant red wines that hold their own with many from the powerful region of burgundy. savoury red fruits, hints of oak and great acidity are the hallmarks of this organic red and why it loves asian food also.

2013 tscharke 'matching socks' touriga barossa valley, sa 52

touriga to me always displays as cabernet sauvignon without all that structure, a prettier version if you like... a traditional fortified grape variety out of portugal, where now finds its way into interesting dry red wines. touriga has been in play in barossan fortifieds for decades, and now spanning to more regions. this wine shows a confectionary raspberry feel, a touch of classic garden herbs and a good bite of just-ripening dark plums.
